Councillor Donal O'Cofaigh - The Workers' Voice

Donal has stood up against the main parties since he was elected as a councillor in 2019. They dislike his message so much that they have repeatedly silenced him. Recently, councillors from the main parties voted against his proposal to demand the Education and Finance Ministers fund free school meals for all (opposed/abstained by SF and UUP councillors) and he was silenced for opposing a rates hike on hard-pressed householders (proposed by DUP, SF and SDLP).

There is an alternative to the politics of the pro-capitalist establishment parties. Donal represents the radical tradition of trade unionism, community activism and anti-sectarian labour and socialist politics in Fermanagh and South Tyrone. He is a thorn in the side of the main parties on the Council and a voice for workers. Send him to Stormont where he will always speak up for you.

A message from Donal

"We are stronger when we stand together. We have the same problems: the cost-of-living crisis, hospital services failing because of the low-pay staffing crisis and GP surgeries and schools being allowed to close one by one. I will always put the common interests of working class Catholic, Protestant and others first. If elected to Stormont I will immediately propose measures which address the cost-of-living crisis and protect our public services and NHS. I will not personally gain from the MLA salary and will donate any increase in my income to community and socialist campaigns and workers on strike. Please consider giving me your No 1 vote on May 5th. Together we will make a difference"
